

Dubai and Abu Dhabi will consolidate, not compete 🛒

Oxford Analytica

+ Author & Article Information

Expert Briefings (2018)

<https://doi.org/10.1108/OXAN-DB233833>

Subject

Economic consolidation in the UAE.

Significance

Abu Dhabi is implementing a new round of mergers across sovereign investment vehicles. This is part of a process that began some years ago, initially in Dubai. The trend has economic and political drivers, and includes fiscal restraints and the shift to a more aggressive foreign policy strategy.

Impacts

Abu Dhabi's new, larger investment fund could increase support for the smaller emirates and regional neighbours.

Privatisation is likely to increase at a slow and steady pace in the UAE.

Authorities may encourage corporate and quasi-sovereign issuance aimed to revive local capital markets.

Capital markets' competition in the search for yield with their regional peers will intensify.

Keywords: United Arab Emirates, ME/NAE, Gulf states, Iran, Qatar, economy, international relations, politics, balance of payments, capital flows, fiscal, foreign investment, integration, investment, monetary

© Oxford Analytica 2022. All rights reserved. This content contains general information about geopolitical, macroeconomic and social developments or (where stated) other matters. It does not contain advice or recommendations that may be relied on. Where links to external websites are provided, this does not indicate that Oxford Analytica or Emerald agree with, endorse or have checked for accuracy the contents of said sites.

Sign in

Don't already have an account? Register

Client Account

Email address / Username

Password

Reset password

Register

Access through your institution

Purchased this content as a guest? Enter your email address to restore access.

Email Address